"I have had thus trouble since last November, a year. It came with a cold, which I got over, except it left me with a severe cough, which Impered with me. I had all the symptoms of a sick woman, such as languot, weakness, loss of inpetite, etc. I roughed a great deal, but never traised very much. I also had pain about the chest, at times. I let my case run on, and felt very baddy all the time. My mere finally persuaded me to take this treatment, and I must say the tessits have been very gratifying, inasenuch as I have been very gratifying in the first time in years, and I feel like my old self again. I can recommend the treatment lookh as a precentise and a cutative method of medication.

BRONCHIAL CATARRH.

This condition often results from entarrh extending from the head and throat. If left unchecked it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes, and in time attacks the lungs.

STARBED WITH A PEN.

▲ New Jersey Boy Dies in a Pecu- Decision of a Maryland Judge Will Har Manner.

Englewood, N. J., Feb. 15 .- As the result of a stab wound received from a pen was reported yesterday to Conway W. Willie Hanley, eight years old, lies dead Sams, chief consul of the Maryland diat the home of his parents in this city. vision, L. A. W., by Local Consul J. C. The boy who did the stabbling is Charles Ellis, of Hyattsville, Md. Charles W. Renny, nine years old.

The boys were pupils at the parachial in the habit of riding a bicycle to Washschool attached to St. Cecilia's Church. They were fast friends and occupied seats together. As the boys sat in the assembly room of the school house on Wednesday morning awaiting the opening exercises they pinched each other and in other ways tried to anger one and in other ways tried to anger one another. The exercises began, but still the boys tensed one another. Finally, Kerny drew from his pocket a pen and laughtingly turned to his companion with the remark that he would stick him. Hanley smiled good-naturedly and dared his friend to do so. Kenny they wielded the pen, intending to pierce the lad's skin. Hanley, however, at the same the pen, intending to pierve the lad's skin. Hanley, however, at the same time leaned forward, and the point of the pen outered the side of his head, just below the ear, almost to the handle of the holder. With a scream the little fellow sank to the floor. When the teachers reached Hanley he was unconscious. He was picked up and taken to the Englewood Hospital. Blood poisoning set in, and he died yesterday afternoon.

A FREE TRIAL. NO HIGH FEES.

Everybody has been reading of the venders accomplished as the result of Doctors McCoy and Cowden's discoveries. The absolute and assured cure of Deafness in all its forms, the radical and permanent Mastery of Catarrh in all its stages, the speedy and complete triumph over Asthma with all its agonies, and over incipient Consumption with all its terrors, has made this treatment not only famous, but an object of intense personal interest to all classes of sufferers.

Deaf people who are constantly reading the story of lost hearing cannot be free from curiosity as to the nature of the new treatment by which this splendid miracle of medicine is now accomplished. Nor can the sick who are constantly reading of the cure of Catarch, Asthma and Lung Diseases be free from a similar passion of interest over the treatment that accomplishes these almost equally marvelous results.

And this offer of a "free" trial to all sufferers applying in person is made for the immediate encouragement of those naturally eager for a personal application of this wonderful treatment, and is made on grounds of simple business fairness to all concerned. All these people who have slight or trifling ailments, purely catarrhal con-ditions, easily capable of a speedy cure under the new methods, will be charged only a trifling fee, while those who have difficult, obstinate or serious discases requiring a special and long-continued care and attention, will be charged a fee commensurate with the care and attention they require.

GOOD WORK OF THE BOARD

The Action of the Convention in

Day Rucing Considered the Most Important Result Accomplished.

Mr. William Gettinger, delegate from the District of Columbia to the L. A.

W. convention at St. Louis, has returned to the city. Mr. Gettinger is full of convention news and ideas, and this morning he talked interestingly on

"What I consider the most important result accomplished," said Mr. Get-tinger, "is the withdrawal of the L.

A. W. sanction of six-day racing. This,

of course, knocks out six-day racing

all over the country, as no body of men will venture to launch an affair of this sort without such sanction. It has been the conviction of reputable wheelmen in every part of the United States that races of this kind should be discontinued. They are brutal and be discentinued. They are brutal and the rewards to the racers themselves are entirely out of proportion to the strain of riding.

The substitution of the seventy-two hour race, with a two-hour rest in each twenty-four, ought to satisfy those people who admire tests of endurance. In an event of this kind there will be some real racing, which the six-day event certainly never furnished. I am confident that the riders themselves will welcome this change even more enthusiastically than the public.

than the public.

"Another vexed question which I think the national board settled satisfactorily, is that of Sunday racing.

"The plan adopted, which provides are this look on the plan adopted.

for a special permit to any division to conduct Sunday racing, practically kills that sort of Sabbath breaking. No single division wishes to stand in the position of advocating racing on the Lord's Day. Had the League offi-cially countenanced the measure, many divisions would probably have taken advantage of that fact, and have at-tributed the blame to the L. A. W. in the event of unfavorable criticism.

It was a politic move and the thing has fallen of its own weight. "Another, and by no means the least the subject.
